PLANS JELLING FOR NEWRY'S 175th ANNIVERSARY ON AUG. 9

The committee for the Aug. 9 Newry 175th celebration met Tuesday evening. Plans are coming together for an exciting day.

The big parade will begin at 10:30 a. m. Gil Seely has made a large flag to lead the parade. There will be clowns, floats, a band and many other participants. Jeannine Fleet has designed stunning ribbons for the lucky award winners.

A time capsule is being prepared and all visitors at the festivities will have an opportunity to add their name to the list which will be enclosed in it.

Besides the craft booths, program, wandering minstrels, etc., there will be special events for the children. Games and contests will begin at 2 p. m. One of the day's highlights will be a softball game at 3 p. m. The game is for all ages so the whole family can join the fun—even grandma!

The committee will meet again Monday, July 28, at the Raymond C. Foster School.

THE PARADE — Joe Taylor, Commander of Maudt-Allen Post, American Legion, leads the annual Mollycokett Day parade last Saturday morning closely followed by the color guard and East Butternut field Militia Drum and Bugle Corps.

From the Bethel Town Office

Volunteerism and Ambulance Service

In 1972, the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service (B.E.A.R.S.) was started by a group of approximately 30 local citizens who had volunteered to serve as attendants for the local private ambulance service.

The B.E.A.R.S. continued to supply State of Maine licensed ambulance attendants for the Greenleaf

Ambulance Service until 1975 when this private service found it impossible financially to continue.

In 1974, with the community facing the possibility of losing ambulance service, the B.E.A.R.S. offered its services to operate a town owned ambulance service and in January of 1975, the Town voted to establish a municipally run service and purchase a new ambulance with required emergency medical care equipment. The B.E.A.R.S. continue today to operate this municipal service in a manner which has received praise from every segment of the community.

What does the B.E.A.R.S. service mean to the community in dollars and cents? Without this group of dedicated individuals, the Town would most probably have to subsidize a fulltime private service either locally or regionally at substantially greater costs or operate a full-time service which conservatively would cost in excess of $75,000 per year. In 1980 Bethel's ambulance service operates on a budget of about $20,000. Patient charges provide about 40% of the service income with Bethel area towns providing the remaining

Good Crowds at Mollycokett Festivities

Mollycokett Day activities last Saturday and Sunday were blessed with near perfect weather. Seasonal temperatures prevailed both days. One of the largest crowds in recent memory witnessed the parade.

Bicycle races for area youngsters started the week end off on Saturday morning with the following results:

10 years and under: Frank Heath, 1st; Todd Davis, 2nd; Bill Pelzel, 3rd.
11 to 13 years: Boys — Kevin Van Deusen, 1st; Jim Feeney, 2nd; Mark Appleby, 3rd. Girls — Penny York, 1st; Kirsten Froburg, 2nd; Marsha Appleby, 3rd.
14 years and older: Erik Froburg, 1st; Joe White, 2nd; Bradley Gaudreau, 3rd.

The annual parade featured Miss Mollycokett 1980, Lisa Westleigh, the American Legion Color Guard, the East Butternut Militia of Buckfield, the Old Crow Indian Band of Farmington, floats, walking groups, antique motor vehicles, as well as saddle horses, and other participants. This year's parade theme was "1980—The Year of the Family."

The float competition was won by Middle Interval Farm, depicting a farm family; second, Youth Conservation Corps, symbolizing the summer program of the Forest Service; third, Telstar Boosters.

Prizes for the walkers went to Susan Vieniére and Marlies Ouwinga, as most original; the Daniel T. Grover family as prettiest; and the Tramp Band (Martha Newell, Alison Davis and Alison Cyr) as the funniest.

Field events for the youngsters were held on the Gould athletic field following the parade. (See summary on Page Three.)

A woodsman's competition started at noon on the Common with a disappointingly small number of entrants. At the same time the "old fashion chicken barbecue" was opened for business.

During the afternoon the booths and displays surrounding the Common were well patronized as well as the fashion show at The Cellar at the Corner of Broad and Paradise Streets.

During the afternoon the crowd was entertained by a "rock group" continued on Page Eight

NEWRY TO HONOR OLDER CITIZENS AT 175th ANNIVERSARY

The Town of Newry, which is celebrating its 175th Anniversary on Aug. 9, will honor its oldest citizens at that time. Among these are Sarah Jane Brooks, 90, of Albany and South Daytona, Fla., and Mabel Bryant, 88, of South Paris. These two sisters are descendants of Frances Heath Morse, who came to Maine and settled in Grafton after losing her husband, John Morse, in the Civil War. Their mother, Lillian Eglena Kilgore, was born in a remote part of Newry, known as Sargent Hill, off the Branch Road, in a house where only the black slate doortop remains today. When not quite 16 years old, she married Cornelius Thompson, a carpenter from Nova Scotia, and they purchased the Ad. Scott Kilgore house later known as the "place." Life was not easy in those days, especially for the two oldest girls. Drinking water was carried from a neighbor's, and wash water from Bear River. A newly dug well caused the death of two brothers. Sent in by Eva Yates:

So far, I think July has been and still is, Hot! I, for one, don't like boiling hot weather, but there is one consolation. We know next January will be cooler, so try and enjoy these hot days and the wiping of sweat.

Here is a hint—When you wash your greens try using warm water. In my opinion it takes the grit and dust off better.

Carroll (Tom) Yates is on a weeks vacation and visiting his relatives and friends in Maine. Only wish his stay could be longer.

The Go Shoes have been quite busy this week. Saturday yours truly was at the Molykott doing all day. Laura Hutchins, Peggy Blake and Arthur Hoves were busy at the Bear River booth selling pop corn, iced tea and real lemonade. I think this was the biggest and best Molykott time we have ever had. The day was good and the crowd was great. Bear River Grange is having guest officers night this Saturday, the 26th. A pot luck supper will be the order of the day before the meeting. Supper at 6:30, so come and bring your pot of luck.

Peggy Blake took in the ball game at West Paris on Tuesday night and the "Bethel Blues" won again. Seven games in a row.

We, Joe and yours truly, were glad to have Paul Billings visit us Thursday evening.

About 70 relatives gathered at the home of B. H. Yates and Barbara Yates Sunday for the Rowe reunion. The day was lovely and the picnic the best and we hope all had a good time. Tom and Roxanne Cushman and two children of Oxford took Roxanne's mother Viola, brother Mark and friend John McAllister, camping. They went up north to First Roach Pond in Kokodjo. It is located in Piscataquis County, north of Moosehead Lake. Tom and Roxanne and children are camping at the Stan McAllisters for a week as they both are on vacation.

Recent callers at Sandersons were Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Nowell, Bridgton, Isabelle Rolfe and Edith Holk, North Waterford, Miss Evelyn Biers and cousin from Roy Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decelle of Litchfield, and Marjorie Kimball.

There will be an auction to benefit the East Stoneham Fire Department. Be sure to come as they need your support. It will be Aug. 3 at the Fire Station.

South Woodstock

Olive Davis, Corres.

A 12 year wedding anniversary and 12 years since Craig entered the service for the U. S. Army was tendered Sgt. Craig Ryerson and wife, Wanda, at West Paris Legion hall on July 12 by their parents Mr. and Mrs. Emory Ryerson and families. The guests were on a furlough from Auburn, N. Y., and were the recipients of a beautiful Uncle Sam wedding cake made by Mrs. Duane Ryerson besides other cup cakes decorated with U. S. A. colors. They also received gifts of money and good wishes. Erlon Hadley played several selections on the organ during the evening. A flute solo was played by Miss Cummings, "The Caissons Are Rolling Along." An original reading written for the occasion was read by Olive Davis. Tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses and a social hour was enjoyed during this time. Milton Inman showed slides on his trip to Alaska which were very good and informative. Now everyone wants to go to Alaska.

Friday night, July 11, severe thunder showers passed over South Woodstock as well as other places. They were widespread. Two trailers were lost in the storm. One at Locke Mills and the other was Harlow's trailer on Route 26. It is too bad after all their hard work in getting a place to live.

Patsy Tibbets visited her mother Friday and picked up her children, Jackie and Neil who have been visiting their grandmother this week. Patsy brought a gift of a vacuuming machine from her and Lorraine as an early birthday gift for her mother, Esther Davis

BERRYMENT COMPLETES NAVAL RECRUIT TRAINING AT GREAT LAKES, ILL.

Navy Airman Recruit Roger D. Berryment, son of Thomas A. and Genneth Berryment of Rumford Ave., Bryant Pond, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 35 basic occupational fields.

Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid.

A 1980 graduate of Telstar Regional High School, he joined the Navy in April 1980.

Letters to the Editor

July 14, 1980
Bryant Pond, Me.

To the Editor,

I would like to make a few comments on the upcoming referendum on nuclear power. Already, I see and hear "your power company" spending thousands of dollars on what I term "scare tactics", to convince Mainers that Wiscasset Nuclear Power Plant is a necessity.

Central Maine Power says that one third of energy production is nuclear. They warn of blackouts and rate hikes if Wiscasset is decommissioned. I give them a very low credibility rating. There were no blackouts in the five months Maine Yankee was shut down last year. Power was bought from the New England Power Pool, which has a 26% surplus of energy beyond the daily peak demand. This surplus could be used while alternative energy is developed.

No matter if Maine Yankee stays open or not, they will keep needing rate increases. A portion of the latest increase is for decommissioning the plant, a phenomenal cost which we barely begin to defray with this rate hike.

Do you remember 15 or 20 years ago when nuclear power was going to be "too cheap to meter"? Did they foresee short uranium supplies and that uranium like oil, would be imported through a costly cartel.

The Power Companies also must have omitted inclusion in their cost/benefit ratio planning for proper disposal of the varied radioactive wastes involved. These wastes start with mining and end with spent fuel. In my opinion there is no amount of money or planning that will solve the problem of having intensely radioactive material around for thousands of years.

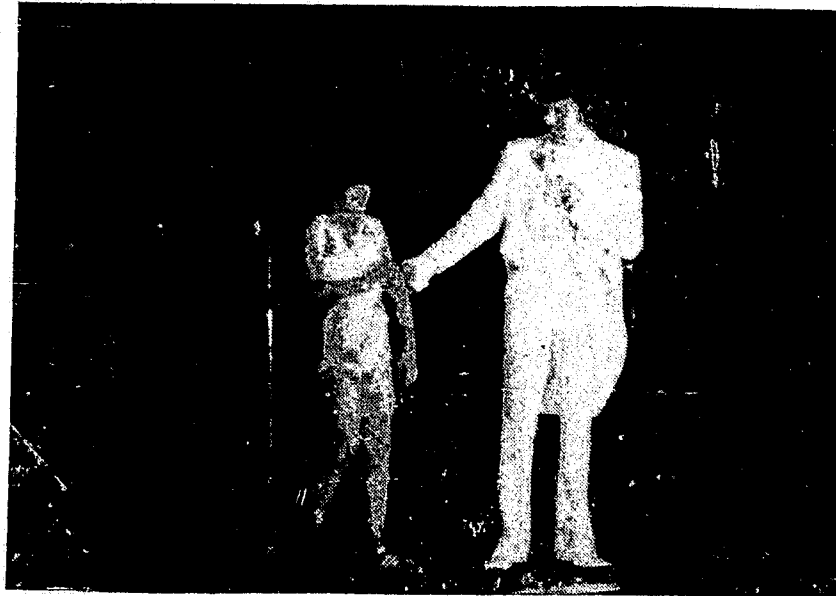

Maine Yankee is already running out of storage space for spent fuel. Their solution, crowd the fuel rods closer together in the cooling ponds. Issues such as this and the earthquake, which occurred last year near Wiscasset, are the grave concerns which prompted me to write this letter.

It is important that people inform themselves of the many economic and health dangers of nuclear power. There are alternatives. Conservation means making more efficient use of what we have, not doing without. We have fantastic hydroelectric potential without despoiling natural resources such as the St. John River. Much of our electrical needs could be met with wood and wood manufacturers by-products as well as solar energy at this time.

Readers who are interested in further information on energy safe Maine can contact Marcel Polak, Cushman Hill, Bryant Pond, telephone 70 ring 5.

Thank you,
Abby Morrison

What commitment does an individual make to serve as an ambulance attendant? To maintain seven day 24-hour service, 14 12-hour shifts with two persons on call are required. That means 28 persons are required if each person were to cover one 12-hour period per week. There are presently about 15 volunteers with each having different periods of availability. Thus many members serve two or more 12-hour shifts per week. In covering a duty period, an individual must be available, at work, stay home near a phone, or with the use of a portable radio, remain within a reasonable distance of the Fire Station.

All members in order to serve as an ambulance attendant, must have training as an Advanced First Aider or an Emergency Medical Technician. An Advanced First Aider requires 52 hours of initial training and 24 hours of refresher training every three years. An EMT requires 100 hours of initial training and 30 hours of refresher training every two years. With a little thought, one can easily see the number of nights and week ends which must be committed for training classes and exercises.

Do ambulance attendants receive compensation? Attendants are paid on a per call basis dependent on where the patient is transported, with no compensation provided for standby or training time. To put this in a greater perspective, there are over 18,000 person hours required each year for coverage and training with compensation provided for a total of about 1,200 person hours. Translated on an individual basis, the average attendant gives 15 hours of standby duty coverage and training time for every hour compensated.

Why is this article in the paper? The ambulance service currently has 13 active attendants and four trainees. The Service also has an additional four individuals who are available for only part of the year. Thus with this number of attendants, a real burden is placed on those who serve. If continued quality emergency services are to be provided, active participation by others in the community is needed.

All are concerned about the costs of government services, and thus your active participation is asked on a voluntary basis to help keep taxpayer costs for this service within the community's ability to pay.

Please don't say to yourself that you're too busy. Another 10 individuals, even if each could serve one shift per week, would greatly ease the burden on present members.

It is hoped you will consider serving and will urge your neighbors to do the same. Further information can be obtained from Arlene Greenleaf at 824-2744.

TOP RATED CIRCUS SHOWS STUFF IN BETHEL

Bethel area residents and vacationers saw the International All-Star Circus give its first performance in Maine at the Telstar Regional High School gymnasium on Monday night. A crowd of about 300 responded enthusiastically to the show which was sponsored by the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce.

The production proved to live up to its advance billing in every respect. The acts were fast moving, well mixed and appealing to both adults and children. Ventriloquist Billy Earl and his singing chicken, Henrietta, drew the loudest reaction from the younger set while various illusions, Nashville music from the other side of Bonny and Clyde and acrobatic acts more than kept the attention of the older generations present. And every one was waiting for the elephant. The shows finale was fittingly enough the Lottos performing elephant whose bath and hosing down outside the gym after the show was as interesting to watch as the gamely beast's performance in the ring.

Overall the show drew many favorable individual comments during the intermission and after the show ended. Quality of the acts including the freshness of costumes, cleanliness and appearance of equipment and props and appeal to all age groups were some of the most noted assets of the circus.

The circus troupe had arrived in Bethel from New Bedford, Mass., staying at the Ordway Brook Campground over the Mollycokett Day week end. Performers commented on the friendliness of Bethelites encountered in town during the week-end's activities. Some performers had worked at circus shows in Twin Mountains, N. H., and had looked forward to returning to this part of New England.

GENEALOGICAL COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Genealogical Committee of the Bethel Historical Society will meet Tuesday evening, July 29, at 7:30 in the Eva Bean Research Room of the Moses Mason House. Survey forms that have been submitted to date will be reviewed and plans for the genealogical survey will be discussed. All members are urged to attend.

GOULD ALUMNI DAY ACTIVITIES FOR SEPTEMBER 19-21

Alumni will return to Gould Academy's campus on the week end of Sept. 19-21 for the school's annual class reunions. A full range of activities have been planned for an expected crowd of over 1,000 alumni, spouses and families.

On Friday evening, Sept. 19, class reunion chairmen, class agents and Alumni Association Directors will be invited to attend a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Barth, Director of Alumni Affairs at Gould. The annual meeting of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors will be held later that evening; and the Alumni Office will be open for class get-togethers, coffee, old photos and yearbooks, and other nostalgic mementos of years past. Present day students, members of Gould's Blue Key Service Organization, will be on hand to serve coffee and answer questions about Gould in 1980.

Saturday, Sept. 20, will begin at 8:30 a.m., with the traditional outdoor Lumberman's Breakfast held this year under a large tent located on a corner of Gould's athletic field. Traditional fare will include scrambled eggs, sausage, baked beans, pancakes, doughnuts and all the trimmings. The breakfast has previously been held at the Bethel Inn Beach Club on Songo Pond, but with the large numbers to be fed, and the possibility of rain, which forced the breakfast indoors at Gould last fall, the tent set-up seems much more practical.

Following breakfast, at 10:30 a.m., Dr. Stan Howe, a 1962 Gould graduate, and curator of the Bethel Historical Society's Moses Mason Museum, will present "Gould Through The Years," a nostalgic look at the history of Gould and its graduates, concentrating on the five-year reunion classes, this year those whose numerals end in "0" or "5". The slide talk will be held at the Moses Mason House on Broad Street.

At noon, the Alumni Luncheon will be held in the William Bingham Gymnasium. A cold buffet will be served, featuring ham, roast beef, potato salad, other salads and desserts. Attending this meal as guests of the Alumni Association will be the present senior class, soon to be the Alumni class of 1981. After the luncheon the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association will be held to elect new Board Members and to transact any other business that may come up.

SENATOR WILLIAM COHEN From Washington

The corrupt use of drugs at American horse racing tracks is quickly reaching the dimension of a nationwide scandal. The integrity of the sport is being undermined, the lives of jockeys endangered and the health of horses threatened. I have co-sponsored legislation in the Senate to prevent the abuse of drugs at American tracks in the hope that the problem can be brought under control.

The bill would not prohibit the use of legitimate drugs for medical purposes, nor penalize owners and trainers for giving their horses vitamins or food supplements. It would eliminate the cruel and dishonest use of drugs to cause a horse to perform beyond its natural ability, and, in some cases, its endurance.

The patchwork of state regulations that currently govern the sport has led to increased use of drugs, and the development of "super drugs" which can be disguised by large doses of legal medication. Some unscrupulous owners and trainers take advantage of the varying state laws to the disadvantage of a horse's health.

The legislation, which I have co-sponsored, would require all race horses to be examined several hours prior to a race, and their blood tested for the presence of drugs. There would also be a stringent post-race testing of a horse's urine and saliva to detect illegal levels of drugs. Frozen samples of a horse's urine, saliva, and blood would be maintained for future comparisons.

If provisions of the legislation were violated, horses could be disqualified from a race, owners and trainers suspended from racing for a specified period, or criminal penalties imposed in the form of fines and imprisonment.

Any state that currently has an anti-drug program that meets the minimum federal standards for medication of race horses would be exempt from the legislation if it is passed.

No other major racing country in the world permits the pre-race drugging of horses. Drugs in wide spread use in the United States, although regulated, are often administered in unsafe doses or in such a way as to mask the presence of illegal drugs used to stimulate a horse before a race.

The results of these practices are clearly dangerous and have resulted in increased numbers of "breakdowns" suffered by horses during races. Normally, a horse would be rested for several weeks after a hard race, but some trainers inject painkillers that allow a horse to run more frequently. Occasionally, this means that a horse may be running on a tender or injured leg which can break under the grueling demands of a race.

In 1978, according to the Jockey Guild, there were 2,000 racing spills affecting 1800 licensed riders. These resulted in 1,500 hospitalizations for two weeks or more, four deaths and the paralysis of four other jockeys.

Such a situation demands a uniform standard to control the use of drugs at all American race tracks. Only if the abuse and misuse of drugs is eliminated from the sport will its integrity be restored and the lives of jockeys and careers of racing horses be safeguarded.

DEPT. OF HUMAN SERVICES ADOPTS NEW IMMUNIZATION RECORD CARD

Maine's first standardized immunization records are being distributed to all health facilities," according to John Dunajski, director, Immunization Control Program, Maine Department of Human Services.

Health care providers have been encouraged to adopt the record in their routine office procedure. The first printing of 20,000 has been distributed statewide to doctors, and nurses. Dunajski has ordered an additional 20,000 to meet the unfilled orders.

"Doctors and nurses are giving them to parents when they have their children immunized," he says. "Parents are responsible for maintaining their children's immunization status and records for school entrance."

"This record is to be presented to school officials as they cannot accept a parent's memory," Dunajski says. "It is also helpful for

Kathy Tyler spent four days camping at Cove Camp Ground on Conway Lake. She went over with her aunt and uncle, Sandra and Harry Laughy, on Saturday and was planning to return home on Tuesday with her mother, Mary Tyler. On Tuesday, Kathy caught her first fish, a nine-inch large mouth bass, which she brought home with her. When her mother arrived at the campsite on Tuesday, they were asked to spend an extra day. So they returned home on Wednesday, Kathy enjoying herself with swimming, fishing and boating, but most of all she enjoyed playing with the new friends that she made over there.

Safety-Tip of the Week:
—Face Yourself While Hiking

Anticipation of hitting the trail can lead to underestimating the terrain or overestimating your stamina. Let the condition and the steepness of the trail determine the distance to be covered, and pace yourself. Maintain a basic rhythm and shorten your stride on steep grades. Remember, hiking down a trail is often more difficult than hiking up, as your muscles are working to fight gravity. Check with your doctor before hiking, if you have any question about your health. Anyone with heart problems, diabetes, and other known health problems should use extreme caution; and do only those activities recommended by his or her physician.

—Eveline Barrett, Corres.—

I am glad the Republican Convention is over. I hope they didn't nominate me for a special office, for I would decline.

I am sorry that I got the date wrong on the "Old Home Sunday." It will be July 27 and not July 20 as I stated. The free pot luck dinner will be served at the hall at 12:30. Just bring an article of food, then stay for the afternoon events. See you there.

The nutrition school will be at the Community Hall this week, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Eveline Barrett, Doris and "Root" Lawrence, joined a family reunion at the home of their niece, Arlene Abbott and Norman, Mexico, Sunday. It was also a birthday party for their oldest sister, Alice Goff, who will be 80 years young in September. The party was early as James H. Goff, Jr., from Lancaster, Calif., and Doris (Goff) Pinkham of Yuma, Ariz., were guests of their mother and will return to their homes this week.

Another son, Everett Goff, Portland, Maine, was able to attend and enjoy the "Bean Hole Beans" baked to perfection by "Doc" Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kallnowski, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Felt, Sharon Scherf and Jenny, were also present. We had an abundance of food, but didn't see any calories. I wonder what happened to them? Heard lots of complaints about the woodchucks eating the gardens. I hope my chucks haven't been roaming.

Mollycoddet Day at Bethel on the week end had beautiful weather, and everything seemed to go smoothly.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ellingwood, Buckfield, Mrs. Jackie Kilbrith, N. Rumford, called on Eveline Barrett.

A former neighbor, Mildred (Hazelton) O'Brien, suffered a heart attack July 17 and was taken to Norway hospital. I hope she is improved in health.

Eveline Barrett was at Dr. Leonard Shaw's, Bethel, on Tuesday. She also called on Mary Mills, and Musa at the Citizen Office.

Roberta Tripp is on vacation from Penley Corp., this week.

Stanley Hale, Wednesday to Monday. A nephew, David Jewell and family, East Jaffrey, N. H., visited Friday and on Sunday, friends from Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. David Pettenger, arrived and stayed until Monday.
